

Silestone Textures Quartz Countertops

Aswell as the typical polished finish, Silestone is also available in two other finishes: Leather, which has an extraordinary, textured feel due to its rugged yet soft surface, and Volcano, which extends the range for fans of rugged materials, offering a texture that is both rugged and soft at the same time.

LEATHER FINISH

A stylish, textured finish available in a wide range of Silestone colours – giving our stone the softest touch.

The leather finish is available in 30 different colours. For quartz colours available with the leather finish, see the section marked Colour

Please be aware that the Silestone Leather Series has a luxurious finish that may require extra care & attention.

Download the leaflet on cleaning these quartz surfaces in PDF format.

See video on cleaning these quartz surfaces on our Youtube channel.

VOLCANO TEXTURE

Volcano is the new Silestone quartz surfaces texture. A texture that is both rustic and soft at the same time. Volcano is the product of R+D-related work to find an attractive surface that responds to market demands.

Volcano extends the range for fans of rugged materials. Volcano is also suitable for use in vertical panels and worktops, both in the bathroom and also in the kitchen.

The product has been treated to make it easy to maintain on a daily basis, and is easy to wash with soap and water.

In flooring applications, the best solution is a polished finish. These finishes, like all non-polished finishes, have important requirements concerning quartz worktops maintenance.